

A ball at point P hits a point B on the top cushion.

It then hits the cushion on the right, and then hits the bottom cushion.

If the ball then returns exactly to P, is point B to the left or to the right of its current position?

Assume each bounce is 'perfect'.

